OSHER
LIFELONG LEARNING
INSTITUTE

Welcome to OLLI!

Summer is the season for discovery.

Just as the spring renews our planet, learning new things refreshes our minds with new thoughts, new perspectives and new goals.

But “in with the new” doesn’t mean “out with the old”. Your past experiences may be someone else’s inspiration for growth and change in the future. Likewise, by talking and sharing stories with others you may discover a whole new world of possibilities.

Established in 2004 at the University of Richmond School of Continuing Studies, the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute operates through the support of its members, the University of Richmond, and through an endowment from the Bernard Osher Foundation of San Francisco. We combine intellectual stimulation and civic engagement with a vibrant community of like-minded students, age 50 and better.

Pursue a special interest. Learn new skills and become involved with social issues. Learn computer basics. Engage in thought-provoking discussions over lunch. Relive history. Experience the arts. Rediscover your love of learning. And do it all on the beautiful University of Richmond campus.

We offer an extensive array of courses in the liberal arts in the fall, spring and summer semesters. The offerings are a combination of undergraduate credit courses for audit, special interest mini-courses, free lectures, community service projects, and more. There are no entrance requirements, no tests and no grades. In fact, no college background is needed at all—it’s your love of learning that counts.

If you’re 50 or better with a curious mind and a keen interest in learning, we’d love for you to join us.

OLLI Leadership Opportunities

Members of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute are invited to participate as leaders in many aspects of the Institute. Through member-leaders, we expand our range of classes and programs and enrich members' OLLI experience. Some leadership opportunities through the OLLI Advisory Council are described below. Others are included on our Leadership Opportunities Form found on page 31.

OLLI Advisory Council

Members of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute are invited to take an active role in guiding their learning experiences – selecting topics for courses, recruiting faculty, planning trips and gatherings, and serving in leadership roles, through the Osher Institute's Advisory Council. Minutes of the OLLI Advisory Council are online at the OLLI Website. The members of the current Osher Advisory Council are listed below. Their names, contact information and focus areas are provided below, and they invite your questions and feedback. If you are interested in becoming a more involved member of the OLLI learning community, please feel free to talk with the OLLI Advisory Council members. You may also complete a volunteer opportunities form, included in this schedule.

OLLI Interest Groups are Forming!

Interest groups are formed and led by Osher members. Current interest groups are shown below. New groups may be formed with assistance from the Osher Institute staff. If you would like to participate or lead an interest group, please contact the Osher Institute office at 287-6344 or 287-6608, or complete the leadership opportunities form in this schedule.

Great Books Group

Is war necessary? Are people naturally selfish? What makes a great leader? Do you expect your friends to live up to the standards you've set for yourself? What is the purpose of government? Do you believe in "fate?" How do we know who we are? How can we be better citizens? Why is family loyalty so important? Should a judge be merciful or just? Is democracy for everyone? A Great Books group is really about Great Questions! Through in-depth discussion of short readings from Plato's time to the present, we'll look for modern, personal answers to questions like these, and pose a few questions of our own. To join this group or for more information contact Osher member John Bruns at URGreatbooks@comcast.net.

Great Short Stories Group

Who are Miss Emily, Eugene, and the German aviator, and why should we care? What do their imaginary lives have to do with our very real ones? Marcel Proust said that each reader reads only what is within himself. What can we find about ourselves in great short stories? Join us to enjoy some wonderful tales and, through discussion, discover what they mean to us. To join this group, or to learn more, contact Osher member John Bruns, at URStories@comcast.net.

Osher Institute Hikers

Come explore outdoors with us! Planned and led by Osher Institute members, our hikes explore different trails of moderate difficulty (uneven and rocky terrain, steep inclines). Most hikes include a shorter/easier or longer/more difficult hike option. Registrants will receive specific hike location and details before each hike date. Osher member volunteer hike committee members are Marshall Ervine, Le Ann Hensche, Floyd Myers and Kent Skidmore.

To register for a hike, email hike coordinator Marshall Ervine at william.ervine@richmond.edu or call the Osher office at 287-6608.

Hike for Summer 2009:

Monday, June 22, Shenandoah National Park, Lamberlost Trail and Rose River Loop, with possible short additional side hike to Dark Hollow Falls off the Rose River Trail.

General Hike Information: This may vary; check individual hike information with hike coordinator. Hikers will depart the UR campus at 9 a.m. from the UR "C" lot on UR Drive and return to campus by 5:30 p.m. Hikers may meet for breakfast at the Heilman Dining Center on the UR Campus before departing for hikes; the dining center opens at 7:15 a.m. Hikers will be responsible for their own transportation. Carpools are encouraged and may be formed at hike departure. There is no course fee for this program, which is open to Silver, Gold and Gold Plus One members, and to non-members. Registration is required. Participants will provide their own transportation, food and applicable park fees.

Writing for Personal Enjoyment

This interest group is for those who are committed to writing for personal pleasure (such as memoir, short story, essay, poetry) and want to meet regularly (weekly or biweekly) to share and critique written works in the interests of enjoying writing and improving writing skills. The role of moderator/facilitator/organizer is shared among the group members. Activities may include writing exercises along the way. For more information, please contact Jan Tarasovic at jtarasovic@comcast.net or the Osher Institute office at 287-6608.

Literary Dreamers Book Club

This group of UR alumni, students, Osher members, and friends of the University are committed to promoting reading through group discussion. Founded in 2001 by dedicated School of Continuing Studies students, the Club encourages continued, life-long learning through reading and exposure to the arts. Our reading materials range from academic non-fiction to literary fiction to popular fiction. Books are selected by the membership at the December business meeting. The Club meets each month on the 4th Saturday at 10 a.m. in the lake view room of the Heilman Dining Hall September through May. There are no meetings during the summer months. Anyone interested in visiting one of the Club's meetings may join at any time. Dining Services requires each participant to pay a small fee for an unlimited breakfast and lunch buffet. To reserve a spot or for more information contact Patty Clark, president, at plc4christ@comcast.net. Upcoming book selections and discussion leaders may be viewed at scs.richmond.edu/osher/lit-dream.htm.

It has also been used for film events such as "Red State Voices" and two Dalai Lama films. For more information visit www.conversationcafe.org.

Presentation Basics & All That Jazz with PowerPoint 2007

NEW! This “hands-on” course is for anyone who wants to make presentations but is hesitant to use PowerPoint because it appears to be too complex or intimidating. Osher Institute faculty and prospective faculty will find this class helpful in developing course presentations. We will explore the PowerPoint “Quick Access Tool Bar”, the basic menu, and editing options available. You will start exploring PowerPoint using its default settings, various slide designs, bulleting, and other special features to jazz up your presentation. We will review “animation” techniques in PowerPoint, how to insert clip art and pictures, and rearranging your slides. Your “final” will be to create your own presentation. The Songlines of Richmond

NEW! Richmond has a rich performing arts history, beginning with Quesnay’s “first academy of fine arts in America,” and continuing through the decades with surprising connections to Elvis Presley, Frank Sinatra and, of course, home-grown greats like Bill “Bojangles” Robinson. Come hear about, and share in the adventure of, Richmond’s performing arts, artists and venues. This class will be taught by Brooks Smith and Wayne Dementi, co-authors of the book, Facts and Legends of the Hills of Richmond, and will feature essays from Brooks’ Rediscovering Richmond commentary series on WCVE Public Radio, together with new and vintage photographs collected or personally captured by Wayne.

Issues of storage, upgrading, downsizing, repairing and inventorying your possessions will be discussed as well. The New Reality: Unity

NEW! We live at a unique moment in history when old structures are declining and new ones are emerging. As we often look to science to help define our reality, an important factor is that the new science of quantum physics indicates that linear thinking, dualism and materialism—the very foundations of the old institutions—are inherently flawed; they cannot be sustained. This class will look at the forces of transformation and the new forms based on Unity that are being created, like collaborative law, restorative justice, transformative mediation, permaculture, green architecture, and others. We will consider if they are our future and the role each person in the class may play in such a transition.

LITERATURE

Women Who Name Fire: An Exploration of Contemporary American Female Poets

NEW! This course will examine themes and techniques used by contemporary American female poets. Selected poems from our text, which includes nearly 100 poets born in the 20th century from different backgrounds and worldviews, will supplement our study. By reading and rereading many of these verses, we will explore ways in which they communicate to us, move us, and challenge us. You will have the opportunity to write and share some of your own poems as inspired by our readings. Shakespeare: Henry V and Much Ado About Nothing

NEW! We will study Henry V and Much Ado About Nothing with an emphasis on history and stage craft related to these plays. As an extracurricular activity, students may wish to attend a production of these plays. Henry V will be presented by the Richmond Shakespeare Theatre at Agcroft Hall and Much Ado About Nothing at Staunton's Blackfriars Playhouse. In studying Henry V, we “. . . deal with the greatest land campaign the English had ever yet conducted and with the nation's greatest land victory [namely the Battle of Agincourt], an almost impossible storybook victory. . .” (from Asimov's Guide to Shakespeare, by Isaac Asimov). In studying Much Ado About Nothing, we witness one of the most pleasant of Shakespeare's plays, according to Mr. Asimov. It is a lusty, romantic and jovial play; it is perfect for the summer time — hot and sweaty. The goal for this class is to make Shakespeare vital, entertaining and not a dreaded high school-type experience for those of you who were not blessed with just the right high school teacher.

MUSIC

Traditions in Music

NEW! Through performance, lecture and discussion, students will learn about New Orleans style jazz and the Jewish roots of George Gershwin's music.

Doctors of Jazz The Doctors of Jazz (DOJ) will share music and stories of the unique New Orleans style jazz that is their specialty. DOJ was organized at the University of Richmond in 1983 as The Academy of Saint Boatwright on the Lake, or ASBOL, and has performed ever since on the University campus, in the city of Richmond, throughout central Virginia and on six tours abroad. Besides the conventional Dixie Land repertoire, DOJ specializes in recreating performances of early New Orleans jazz, particularly those of Joe "King" Oliver's Creole Jazz Band from the early 1920s. Faculty: members of Doctors of Jazz (originally "ASBOL: Academy of Saint Boatwright on the Lake") Gene Anderson, Clarinet; Martin Ryle, Trombone; Rob James, Cornet; Dick Dunsing, Banjo; Bill Barr, Cornet; Ben Anderson, Tuba; Paul Walaskay, Piano; Akira Suski, Drums.

Jewish Music Influences on George Gershwin

Through music, lecture and discussion, we will learn about the many connections between Gershwin's compositions and traditional Jewish music. Leading this talk are members of Klezm'Or'Ami'm, a group of musicians from Congregation Or Ami, the only Reform Jewish congregation south of the James. Klezm'Or'Ami'm members participating in this session are Bill Moskowitz, clarinet; Steve Shapiro, piano; Bruce Gould, drums; and Marcy Horwitz, piano, accordion, keyboards and writer/narrator. Klezmer is dance party music with a Jewish soul. Klezmer influenced early jazz in America, and the opening of Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" is a straight klezmer riff for clarinet.

Exploring the World

NEW! This class will feature two sessions each led by worldwide adventurers.

Promoting global understanding through the Friendship Force a member of the Richmond Friendship Force Club will share her international travel experiences with us. This talk will appeal to seasoned and would-be travelers alike.

Friendship Force International (FFI) is a worldwide network of clubs (local chapters) and individuals that advance the mission of promoting global understanding across the barriers that separate people.

This is done by connecting people from different locales at the personal level. When local hosts open their homes to visitors from other locales and cultures, true understanding can develop through the sharing of meals, conversation and the routines of daily life. Since its founding in 1977 FFI has brought together millions of people. The Friendship Force mission, structure and activities are described at www.the-friendshipforce.org. Faculty: Jo Lee Kenney

Paul Cézanne: Painter of Provence

NEW! Paul Cézanne (1839-1906) stated that he "wanted to make of Impressionism something solid and enduring, like the art in museums." Not an easy task, for the painter of Provence who was constantly dissecting the landscape into geometric patches of color that were on the verge of dissolving into abstraction. Aix-en-Provence, L'Estaque, Gardanne and Bellevue in the south of France provided the perfect setting for Cézanne's explorations and experiments into discovering the geometric structure of nature, thus paving the way to Picasso's and Braque's 20th century Cubism. This seminar will focus on the artist's glorious paintings and drawings of his native region, Provence. Special attention will be given to his series of nine oils depicting the massive Mont Ste. Victoire, as it loomed in the distance from his last home at Les Lauves.

Explore your love of learning with OLLI.

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute combines intellectual stimulation and civic engagement with a vibrant community of like-minded students, age 50 and older.

We offer an extensive array of courses in the liberal arts in the fall, spring and summer semesters. The offerings are a combination of undergraduate credit courses for audit, special interest mini-courses, community service projects, performing arts events and more.

There are no entrance requirements, no tests and no grades. In fact, no college background is needed at all—it's your love of learning that counts. Join the fun today!
