A MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

The School of Continuing Studies exists to serve the continuing education needs of local, regional, national and international communities by providing exemplary educational opportunities for non-traditional students through degree, certificate and non-credit programs. It is also one of the academic units that make up the University of Richmond and, as such, it strives to meet the highest academic standards possible. In short, our goal is to offer quality programs and services in ways that recognize the unique circumstances of adults.

To achieve our mission, our faculty combine substantial practical experience with excellent teaching skills. And we offer them opportunities to enhance their respective abilities through an active development program. In terms of our curriculum, we seek substantial input from those employing our students and from our students themselves in an effort to be current and to offer education and training of immediate benefit. And we offer the full range of services required by busy adults trying to juggle their studies with work, family and other demands.

The University of Richmond experience is special and unique regardless of your age or any other characteristic, and the faculty and staff of the School of Continuing Studies remain committed to keeping it so.

James L. Narduzzi, Ph.D.
Dean

- All Islamic dates begin at sunset the preceding evening.
- The Islamic year is based on the lunar cycle, consisting of twelve months of 29 or 30 days each, totaling 353 or 354 days. Each new month begins at the sighting of a new moon. Actual dates may differ by a day or two from the above dates. In many places, the moon sighting is often determined in advance by astronomical calculations.
UNIVERSITY OF RICHMOND

Statement of Purpose

The University of Richmond is an independent, privately endowed institution of higher education that provides a comprehensive academic program for men and women. It offers the intimacy of a small university and the diverse educational opportunities that derive from undergraduate degree programs in the liberal arts and sciences, business, and leadership studies, as well as graduate and professional programs in law, business, and selected areas of the arts and sciences. The University also provides a variety of credit and continuing education programs as well as cultural events to the larger community.

The educational objectives of the University are:

- to cultivate in students the interest, capacity, and skills necessary for independent intellectual inquiry and lifelong learning;
- to convey to students a representative portion of that body of knowledge that has accumulated and endured through the history of world cultures;
- to encourage and aid students in the development of basic beliefs, values, and attitudes, including those of cooperation and tolerance;
- to assist students in selecting and preparing for careers and for study in graduate and professional schools;
- to foster in students personal habits that contribute to health and physical fitness.

In order to achieve these objectives, the University is committed to:

- an academic setting that guarantees and encourages freedom of thought, expression, and association;
- an undergraduate curriculum that requires mastery of essential intellectual tools, awareness of the diversity of human cultural experiences, extensive knowledge of at least one area of study, and opportunities for interdisciplinary and integrative inquiry;
- a faculty dedicated to excellent teaching and dialogue with students, an active engagement in scholarship, scientific inquiry, and artistic creativity;
- a diverse, largely full-time and residential student body that participates in a broad range of University activities including opportunities for research, leadership, and the development of civic responsibility;
- the essential resources for learning, such as libraries, laboratories, studios, information and communications technology, and media resources;
- opportunities for internships, social commitment and public service, and other domestic and international learning experiences;
- a program of varied social, spiritual, and physical activities that provide occasions for growth, fun, and fellowship;
- an administration and staff that preserve and enhance the University's environment and resources, and that represent the institution to the broader community it serves.
Organization and Accreditation

Five academic schools and two residential colleges are incorporated to form the University of Richmond with authority and responsibility vested legally in the Board of Trustees and the President of the University. The several colleges and schools award no degrees individually, but all degrees for work done in any one of them are conferred by the University of Richmond.

The University enrolls approximately 2,900 full-time undergraduates, 93% of whom live on campus; some 500 full-time law and graduate students; and 1,300 part-time students, largely from Richmond and the surrounding community.

The University of Richmond is fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, GA 30033-4097; Telephone: 404/679-4501) to award associate, baccalaureate, master, and juris doctor degrees. The University also is certified by the Virginia State Board of Education to offer teacher licensure programs. Various departments and divisions have more specialized accreditation. Included in this category are the music program, accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music, and the chemistry program, accredited by the American Chemical Society. In addition, The E. Claiborne Robins School of Business is accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and The T.C. Williams School of Law is accredited by the American Bar Association.

Environment and History

The campus consists of some 50 major buildings of impressive Collegiate Gothic architectural style set amid 350 acres of lawns, a lake and woodlands. Richmond is in a setting of beauty and harmony suggesting an able future as a seminary, later becoming a continuation of the deep roots of its past. Indeed, Richmond's history began almost two centuries ago with Richmond College, founded in 1830 by Virginia Baptists as a college of liberal arts and sciences for men. Around this nucleus were established The T.C. Williams School of Law (1870); Westhampton College, a college of liberal arts and sciences for women (1914); the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, for advanced study in the liberal arts and sciences (1921); The E. Claiborne Robins School of Business, for undergraduate and graduate study in business (1949); University College, for evening, summer, and continuing education (1962), now called the School of Continuing Studies; and the Jepson School of Leadership Studies, the first school of leadership studies in the United States (1989). In 1990, the academic missions of Richmond College and Westhampton College were combined in a separate school, the School of Arts and Sciences. Richmond College and Westhampton College are the residential colleges for men and women respectively, providing special programming and leadership opportunities in student life.

Richmond benefits from a heritage of ethical and religious values, a residential character, and a commitment to liberal and general education through intimate schools and colleges joined into a substantial whole.

Library Resources

The University's libraries are the center of intellectual activities outside the classroom. Boatwright Memorial Library, facing Westhampton Lake, is the main library. It is home to the Business Information Center, the Media Resource Center, and the Science Information Center. The Parsons Music Library is in the Modlin Center for the Arts. The Law Library in the T.C. Williams School of Law serves the special need of law students and faculty.

The libraries' collections have been developed to meet the needs of students and faculty. Those collections consist of more than 450,000 volumes, more than 11,000 journal subscriptions, more than 200 online databases, and a wealth of resources in media such as electronic books, sheet music, DVD, audio CD, microfilm, and audiobooks. Since 1900 the University of Richmond has enjoyed status as a depository for U.S. Government publications. Boatwright Memorial Library holds more than 500,000 government documents in print and microform and provides electronic access to thousands more. The Galvin Rare Book room contains nearly 25,000 rare books, first editions, maps, photographs and manuscripts. The online catalog (http://library.richmond.edu) provides access to the collections through the Internet.

The libraries offer group and individual instruction in using these resources effectively. Group instruction is offered in the Boatwright Computer Classroom and other locations.
Boatwright Memorial Library offers a mix of study space suitable for individuals working quietly or for group work, AV viewing/listening carrels and rooms, and 99 computer work stations. Laptop computers are loaned for in-building use; these connect to the University’s wireless network.

The libraries participate in local and state consortia as well as national networks to obtain access to databases and to borrow items not held in the University’s collections.

A separate wing of Boatwright Memorial Library houses these Virginia Baptist Historical Society, a memorial to the Virginia Baptists who struggled to secure religious liberty in America. The library holds thousands of books, church records, manuscripts, and personal papers related to Virginia Baptist history and heritage. The Society also manages the University’s archives, a large collection of books, photos and memorabilia related to the University’s rich history.

The libraries are open to the entire campus community.

Computing Facilities

The University of Richmond has numerous computer labs across campus. The purpose of the labs varies from general student use to specific departmental use. The labs contain a wide variety of equipment and software. The Microsoft Office XP Suite is the University’s standard for personal and enterprise productivity software. All users must have an active University computer account to log into any of the campus machines. Please refer to the Policies for Responsible Computing posted on the UR WEB.

The University of Richmond provides rich technology and information resources for students, faculty, and staff. The ground floor of Jepson Hall houses many computing services. This includes the University Help Desk, a resource that provides assistance with computing related issues for the entire campus. The facilities in Jepson Hall include two general purpose computer labs with a total of 50 PC and Mac workstations; five PC classrooms equipped with full multimedia capabilities; and two computer classrooms designated for use by Math & Computer Science running Linux, Unix and other platforms. When classes are not in session, the Jepson Hall computer equipped classrooms are open for student use.

The normal operating hours for Jepson Hall during the Fall and Spring semesters are Monday-Thursday 7:45 am-1:00 am, Friday 7:45 am - 5:00 pm, Saturday 11:00 am - 6:00 pm, and Sunday 11:00 am-1:00 am. The schedule changes for holidays, vacations and exams. Please refer to the hours posted on the UR Website.

The Technology Learning Center is located on the third floor of Boatwright Memorial Library. It is devoted to servicing the multimedia needs of students, faculty, and staff. This area includes PC and Mac workstations equipped with high-end web development, multimedia, animation, 3-D modeling and audio-video recording and editing software. Scanners, high-quality printers, large-format plotters, digitizers, and digital video and still cameras are available. The space also contains a photography studio and a small recording studio. Most importantly, these areas are professionally staffed, so students not only have access to the hardware and software, but experts who can help them use these specialized tools.

Many departments on campus also have computer labs dedicated to meeting the learning and research needs of their students. These include Art & Art History, the Business School, Chemistry, Classical Studies, Education, the Law School, Modern Languages & Literatures, Music, Physics, Psychology, the School of Leadership Studies, and Theater & Dance. A public computer lab is also located in the Gottwald Science Center. Boatwright Memorial Library has an abundance of workstations, as well as laptops available for check-out for use within the building. For more information regarding the discipline

Substitute Teacher, Henrico County Public Schools

“UR has excellent resources for the adult learner such as the computer labs, extensive library materials, the Technology Center, just to name a few. All of these services are terrific options and if you put them to use, they really help you to move smoothly through your education experience.”
specific of operation please refer to the University Website under Information Services.

Curriculum Materials and Technologies Center

The Curriculum Materials and Technologies Center (CMTC) supports the University of Richmond students and faculty of the Education Department and School of Continuing Studies Teacher Licensure Program by providing an assortment of print materials and technology resources for exploration, use and evaluation. As an environment designed for individual and small group curriculum development, study, reading and collaboration, it plays an innovative and integral role in the educational process of pre-service educators.

The CMTC is located on the third floor of North Court, Room 306, in the Education Department at the University of Richmond. Call 804/289-8433 or visit the Center’s Web page at www.richmond.edu/academics/a&s/education/cmtc/.

University Police

The University of Richmond University Police Department, a nationally accredited police department, is committed to providing a safe and secure environment for our students, faculty, staff, and visitors. The University of Richmond Police Department provides 24-hour uniformed response to calls for service, provides routine and directed patrol activities, performs vehicular crash investigation, and performs the investigation of criminal offenses. Additionally, all police officers are Red Cross First Responder/CPR certified. Uniformed security officers also assist with building security and other calls for service as needed. All crimes that occur on the campus should be reported to the University Police in person or by calling 911, 289-8911 or 289-8715. More information about the police department, including crime statistics, can be found online at http://oncampus.richmond.edu/administration/police/.

Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act

University of Richmond is committed to assisting all members of the university community in providing for their own safety and security. The annual security compliance document is available on the University of Richmond website at http://www.richmond.edu/administration/police.

If you would like to receive a copy of the security report which contains this information, you can stop by the University Police Department at Special Programs Building, #31 UR Drive, University of Richmond, VA 23173 or you can request that a copy be mailed to you by calling (804) 289-8722.

The website and booklet contain information regarding campus security and personal safety including topics such as: crime prevention, University police law enforcement authority, crime reporting polices, disciplinary procedures and other matters of importance related to security on campus. They also contain information about crime statistics for the three previous calendar years concerning reported crimes that occurred on campus, in certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by University of Richmond, and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus.

This information is required by law and is provided by the University of Richmond Police Department.

Parking Services

The Parking and Traffic regulations of the University of Richmond are designed to best maintain an orderly flow of traffic on campus and to best utilize the existing parking facilities. To accomplish these goals it is necessary for all motor vehicles, including motorcycles, golf carts, and mopeds, owned or operated by faculty, staff or students to be registered with Parking Services on an annual basis. All vehicles registered and operated on campus must be properly licensed and inspected for mechanical condition in accordance with the laws of the state in which the vehicle is registered for operation. All persons operating a vehicle on University grounds must possess a valid operator’s license.

Rules and regulations and vehicle registration information can be found at the Parking Services website: http://richmond.edu/administration/police/parking. Parking lots are lighted and patrolled by the University Police Department.
The School of Continuing Studies (SCS) offers courses and programs for credit and noncredit, weekends, day and evening, in the summer and regular school year. The major divisions of the School of Continuing Studies are the Evening School, the Summer School, and Community and Professional Education.

Through the Evening School, the School of Continuing Studies offers bachelor and associate degree programs; undergraduate and graduate certificate programs, pre and post-baccalaureate; and a variety of individual courses to meet the educational, professional and personal growth needs of adults in the Metropolitan Richmond area and beyond. The School of Continuing Studies shares in the tradition of the University of Richmond. It is through the nontraditional educational opportunities of the school that the University offers its strengths and resources to the Richmond area community and beyond.

The origin of the School of Continuing Studies may be traced back to 1920 when the department of economics of Richmond College was formed, eventually to become the department of economics and applied economics. In 1924 the Evening School of Business Administration was organized as a separate division of the University of Richmond. In 1949 the department of economics and applied economics in Richmond College was combined with the Evening School of Business Administration with both day and evening classes. In 1962 the Evening Division was separated from the School of Business Administration to form the nucleus of University College. From 1964 until 1974, University College offered a full-time freshman and sophomore day liberal arts program in addition to its full Evening School program.

On July 1, 1974, the Summer School, founded in 1920, became part of University College. In keeping with the University’s tradition of residential colleges and academic schools, University College became the School of Continuing Studies in October 1994.

Admission Acceptance Policy

The acceptance of a student for admission into the School of Continuing Studies as a degree-seeking student (master’s, bachelor, associate, certificate, and graduate certificate) remains in effect for a period of 12 months from the date of “official” notification by letter. If a student fails to register for classes within that time frame, he or she must reapply for admission and may be required to re-submit supporting documentation.

Admission to Undergraduate Programs

Students seeking admission to an undergraduate certificate, post baccalaureate certificate, associate degree or bachelor degree program in the Evening School must show evidence of high school graduation by submission of transcripts or the General Education Development (GED) equivalency; must submit transcripts from each and every college or university previously attended; and complete the New Student Information Form. Special admission may be granted to non-high school graduates.

Note: A student who is not eligible to return to another college or university may not attend any Evening School program, even with unclassified status, until a minimum of one semester has elapsed. Official transcripts from all institutions previously attended by such a student must be filed in the Office of the Dean.
Mission Statement
The mission of the School of Continuing Studies is to provide extraordinary learning opportunities for learners of all ages.

Admission Process
The School of Continuing Studies has open registration. You do not have to be accepted into a program to take a class. However, if you wish to pursue a certificate, post baccalaureate certificate, associate, or bachelor's degree, you need to:

1. File the New Student Information Form with the School of Continuing Studies.
2. Have official transcripts from all colleges and/or universities forwarded directly to the SCS.
3. Have your high school or GED transcript forwarded directly to the SCS (only required if you do not have previous college work).
4. Please use the enclosed transcript request form when ordering official copies of your college and/or high school transcripts. Duplicate as needed.

PLEASE TAKE NOTE:
- You may take classes while awaiting your transcripts.
- A transcript from each school you attended will be required before you can be admitted into a program. (It is recommended that you contact the school(s) in advance to determine the fee, if any, for this service.)
- Your application will be processed when all transcripts are received, and you will be contacted by mail at that time.

ENGLISH PROFICIENCY:
Students whose native language is not English, or whose collegiate level or secondary level instruction was not English, must also earn a score of at least 550 on the paper-based or 213 on the computer-based Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) before admission and/or enrollment to the University of Richmond School of Continuing Studies. The University may require additional evaluation for language proficiency through testing or individual interviews for students with TOEFL scores near the minimum score. Information on the TOEFL may be obtained from the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08541 or www.toefl.org. The TOEFL score must be no more than five years old at the time of application.

Academic Amnesty
The Academic Amnesty Policy is applicable for students seeking admission or readmission to the School of Continuing Studies as a degree candidate. Under the Academic Amnesty Policy, eligible students may, on a one-time basis, petition the School of Continuing Studies to disregard previously earned grades of D and/or F for the purpose of admission to the School of Continuing Studies as a degree candidate.

Conditions for academic amnesty are:
1. A grade point average of less than 2.0 in previous academic performance;
2. Non-enrollment as a full-time student in the past five years;
3. A minimum grade of C in each class in the first 13 semester hours of course work in the School of Continuing Studies. Certain course requirements may apply.

Failure to meet course and/or grade requirements will terminate eligibility for academic amnesty and require the student to achieve a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 to be considered for admission to a degree program.

All grades previously earned at the University of Richmond will remain on the student’s permanent academic record and will be included in the computation for graduation honors. If academic amnesty is granted, a statement to that effect will appear on the former University of Richmond student’s permanent academic record.

Students admitted under the Academic Amnesty Policy are not eligible to apply for financial aid until the conditions have been met and they are officially admitted to a degree program.

Admission to the Accelerated Weekend College
Contact Student Advisor for details.
Admission to the Graduate Certificate in Disaster Science and Master of Disaster Science

Admission Requirements:
Students seeking admission to the Graduate Certificate Program in Disaster Science and the Master of Disaster Science degree must have the following:
• A baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university.
• A grade point average of 3.0 or higher on all college and university academic work attempted.
• For students who have completed an undergraduate degree in emergency management or a related field, a minimum of two years paid or volunteer experience in the field.
• For students with other majors, a minimum of three years experience in the field.
• Students who do not meet experience or grade point average requirements may be considered on a case-by-case basis and admitted conditionally after demonstrating other significant achievements that make satisfactory completion of the course of study likely.

Note: Students whose native language is not English, or whose collegiate level instruction was not English, must also earn a score of at least 550 on the paper-based or 213 on the computer-based Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Students with scores at or slightly above the minimum score, may also be required to be evaluated for language proficiency through additional testing or individual interviews. The TOEFL score must be no more than five years old at the time of application. Information about the TOEFL may be obtained from the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08541 or www.toefl.org.

Before an application will be considered for admission, the following documents must be on file at the School of Continuing Studies office:
1. A completed application form. Use the graduation application in the center of this catalog.
2. Official transcripts of all college and university work attempted from each and every college and university attended.
3. Official TOEFL score report (when applicable).

Official documents verifying college and university work and test scores must be sent from the institution or agency responsible for the information directly to the School of Continuing Studies.

Advising and Program Planning
An academic advisor will help you plan a program suited to your needs. You are urged to use this service since information about programs and University regulations is important to your academic success. To make an appointment with an advisor, call the Evening School, 804/289-8133.

Disability Accommodations
The University seeks to comply with all applicable federal, state, and local laws regarding the rights of individuals with disabilities. To facilitate such compliance, the Vice President for Student Affairs serves as the University’s Disability Coordinator. The University does not discriminate on the basis of disability in admission. Therefore, applicants are not required to provide information about their physical condition or disability status prior to admission. Individuals with disabilities are invited to contact the Disability Coordinator (for the School of Continuing Studies this is the Director of Student Affairs) regarding any accommodations they may require upon matriculation. The University provides reasonable adjustments or accommodations in its academic programs as necessary for equal opportunity and participation for qualified students with disabilities.

Policies
The University of Richmond is governed by policy statements which guide individual members in their actions toward each other and toward the larger community. These policy statements support the University’s educational mission while seeking to assure that both individual and majority rights are appropriately observed and maintained.

Honor Statute
University Honor Statute governs such behavior as cheating, plagiarism, lying, and academic theft.

Policy Statement on Standards of Conduct, Penalties, and Disciplinary Procedures governs the conduct of students and their guests, as well as other individuals.

The determination of whether a policy has been violated and imposition of penalties, when necessary, will be effected according to established procedures, with procedural fairness observed, and with appropriate appeal procedures available. Penalties for violations range from reprimand to expulsion from the University, and if appropriate, legal action may be invoked.

Students may obtain a copy of the policies from the Dean’s Office, or consult the SCS Student Handbook.

Bookstore
The University Bookstore carries textbooks for all courses scheduled for a given term at the University. A comprehensive selection of reference books and general reading materials is also available. The store offers academically priced software, computer and office supplies, greeting cards, gifts, clothing, and health and beauty aids. Services offered include UPS shipping, faxing, and photo developing. The website is www.urspidershop.com.

Student Government Association
The goal of the School of Continuing Studies Student Government Association is student representation through communication. Active Membership is open to current students, while Supporting Membership is open to all University of Richmond evening students and School of Continuing Studies alumni. Student participation is encouraged and needed. SGA activities include the May commencement reception, a newsletter, the Outstanding Faculty Award and timely special activities.

Society of Human Resource Management
The School of Continuing Studies has a Student Chapter of the Society of Human Resource Management.

University College/School of Continuing Studies Alumni Association
The University College/School of Continuing Studies Alumni Association was founded by a group of UC/SCS alumni in 1995. The association is strongly committed to its mission: to benefit the school, students and alumni through the adoption of projects that promote scholarship and assistance to students and provide service and social opportunities for alumni, and its goals are twofold: to provide an ongoing connection to the School and the University and represent the unique experience of evening college students.

Current School of Continuing Studies students benefit from the association’s efforts to obtain information about careers and increase financial assistance, particularly through the promotion and support of the Jean H. Proffitt Scholarship, which awards scholarships annually to selected students.

“As a trainer I can appreciate how valuable preparation is in creating and delivering a successful class. The School of Continuing Studies was the right preparation for the next stage in my life.”
Student Identification Number

In an effort to better protect the privacy of each member of the University of Richmond community, the University will no longer use social security numbers as the primary identification for University records. Effective summer 2004, the University will use randomly generated ID numbers for each student, employee, faculty member and alumnus.

A student will be assigned a University of Richmond ID number as the primary identification for University records when he/she enters the University. This eight-digit number will be printed on each student’s One-card (unless the student requests it not be printed). This UR ID number will also be used in conjunction with a confidential PIN for students to register for classes and access their academic records through the Web using the University of Richmond’s Student Information System (BannerWeb).

A social security number will still be required to be on file with the University to fulfill IRS and Federal reporting requirements.

Confidentiality/Privacy Rights/Rights to Know

Confidentiality/Privacy Rights/Rights to Know
University of Richmond procedures and Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-380) as amended, prohibit the unauthorized release of confidential information about individual students. However, directory information is not considered to be confidential and may be published or otherwise released. Directory information includes: name; addresses: permanent, campus, local (off-campus), email and campus computer network (IP) address; associated telephone numbers; date and place of birth; school or college; major and/or minor fields of study; degree sought; expected date of completion of degree requirements and graduation; degrees conferred; awards and honors (e.g. Dean’s list); full or part time enrollment status; dates of attendance; previous institutions attended; participation in officially recognized activities and sports; weight and height of members of athletic team members; photograph. A full list of information considered directory information is available on the Office of the University Registrar’s web page at http://oncampus.richmond.edu/academics/registrar/ferpapolicy.html or by contacting the Office of the University Registrar. A student may opt to have his or her directory information withheld. To exercise this option, the appropriate form must be obtained from the Office the University Registrar, completed and returned to that office. Once filed this form remains in effect until withdrawn by the student in writing to the Office of the University Registrar. For further information, contact the Office of the University Registrar.

RIGHTS WITH RESPECT TO EDUCATION RECORDS
The Family Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

1. The right to inspect and review their records within 45 days of the date the University receives a request for access. Students should submit to the University Registrar a written request that identifies the record(s) they wish to inspect. The Registrar will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place the records may be inspected.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student’s education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading. Students may ask the University of Richmond to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the University Registrar, clearly identifying the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the University of Richmond decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise him or her of the right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate education interests. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the University of Richmond to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA are: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-4605

The University of Richmond’s complete FERPA Policy Statement is available as part of the Office of the University Registrar’s web page at http://oncampus.richmond.edu/academics/registrar/policy/studentcon.html and on page 17 of the 2003 “FACTBOOK,” which is available in offices across campus.
Academic Skills Center

The Academic Skills Center provides academic support to all students (i.e., undergraduate, graduate, etc.). Using a holistic approach, the Center incorporates counseling and study skills techniques. The Center offers a unique Peer Academic Skills Tutoring (PAST) program staffed with tutors who are trained to simultaneously provide tutorial assistance in a variety of disciplines and study skills. For information, call 804/289-8626 or come by the Center to schedule an appointment.

Career Development Center

School of Continuing Studies students eligible to use the services of the Career Development Center are those who:

- are admitted to an associate or bachelor degree-seeking program,
- have completed 12 semester hours at the University of Richmond and
- are in good academic standing.

The Career Development Center, located on the ground level of Richmond Hall, provides comprehensive career services for University of Richmond students and alumni. Its mission is to assist students and alumni in identifying and implementing self-determined and realistic educational and career goals. Staff members provide individualized career counseling and help students develop a systematic approach to the job or graduate school search. Programs are held throughout the year on such topics as self-assessment, choice of major, job search skills, and diversity in the workplace. Outside speakers regularly participate in career seminars designed to educate students about careers and job search skills.

The center houses a Career Resources Library containing a variety of print and audio-visual materials on career fields, internships and summer jobs, and graduate education.

The Speech Center

The Speech Center serves the entire University community in the pursuit of speaking proficiency. Closely associated with the Department of Rhetoric and Communication Studies, the Center is designed to support courses emphasizing speech and oral presentations across the curriculum.

For information, call 804/289-8814, visit the Center’s website http://speech.richmond.edu or visit the Speech Center on the fourth floor of Weinstein Hall.

The Writing Center

The Writing Center provides individual tutoring in writing for undergraduate and graduate students in any course or academic discipline. For information visit the Center’s Web site at writing.richmond.edu.

The University reserves the right to increase the fees listed herein, if conditions should make such a change necessary or advisable. Changes will be announced as far in advance as possible.

A student will be dropped if payment for classes is not received by 5:00 p.m. on Friday of the first week of class or if arrangements for payment are not on file with the Student Accounts office. A student is still responsible for meeting all payment deadlines, even if they do not receive a bill. Students may review their student account at any time on BannerWeb. If a student is dropped due to nonpayment, they may still be responsible for tuition and fee charges according to the University Refund Policy.

No credit is given for a term’s work nor a degree conferred until all charges have been satisfactorily settled. Failure to make satisfactory financial arrangements can result in delay of graduation, denial of registration privileges, removal from classes, withholding of transcripts and/or referral to a collection agency.

If the University deems it necessary to engage the services of a collection agency or attorney to collect or to settle any dispute in connection with an unpaid balance on a student account, the student will be liable for all collection agency and/or attorney’s fees, reasonable expenses and costs incurred. Accounts referred to a collection agency are reported to the credit bureau(s).

General Fee Refund

Students are matriculated by semester. If a student withdraws from classes or is dropped from the University for whatever cause, a refund of fees for a fall or spring semester shall be made in accordance with the University’s refund policy, based on the following schedule. This schedule is adapted for summer terms.

Students who withdraw from the University and who are receiving any financial assistance may be required to return such assistance per Public Law 668.22 and institutional policy. The University of Richmond complies with all federal regulations governing recipients of federal Title IV funds. Information regarding financial aid refund policies is available from the Financial Aid Office.

The amount of the refund is based on the date that written withdrawal notification is received in the Office of the Dean. Any special fee is nonrefundable after the first day of class.

General Fee Refund Appeals Process

The University of Richmond has an appeal process for students and parents who believe individual circumstances warrant exceptions from the published general refund policy. All appeals must be in writing and directed to Annemarie Weitzel, Bursar, Box R, University of Richmond, Virginia, 23173; or bursar@richmond.edu.
Tuition Payment Options

Full payment or plan of payment is due to the Student Accounts Office by the end of the first week of the term or you will be dropped from class. You are still responsible to meet all payment deadlines, even if you do not receive a bill. Students may view their student account at any time over BannerWeb.

If you are dropped from class due to nonpayment, you may still be responsible for the tuition and fee charges according to the University Refund Policy.

FULL PAYMENT is due by the end of the first week of class if paying by:

1. MasterCard, Visa, American Express or Discover. Call PhoneCharge at (877) 237-9734 – There is a convenience fee for using this credit card service that is explained in detail during the phone call prior to authorization of the charge.
2. Check payable to the University of Richmond.
3. Cash. (Do not mail cash!)
4. Payment Plan. The University is offering the services of Academic Management Services (AMS) for students who desire a payment plan.

WHAT IS AMS?

AMS (Academic Management Services) is an education financing company that provides families and students with a low cost plan for budgeting tuition and other education expenses. The Tuition Pay Monthly plan is NOT a loan program, therefore no debt is incurred. There is no interest or finance charged assessed by AMS on the unpaid balance due to the college. The only fee to budget payments through AMS is a $35.00 per semester non-refundable enrollment fee. Payments made through AMS are considerably less expensive than the cost of obtaining loans, paying with credit cards, or budgeting through other interest or fee-charging payment plans. There is no credit search or qualifications necessary to use AMS.

One of the reasons why the cost to budget with AMS is so affordable is because payments through AMS are made by using automatic payments from your bank. The automatic payment helps you budget tuition payments in a convenient way, which ensures that the college will receive dependable and consistent tuition payments.

With AMS you never miss a payment and you save the time and expense of writing and mailing checks.

HOW DOES THE AUTOMATIC PAYMENT WORK?

Automatic payments are simply payments that you authorize your bank to make on your behalf on a specific date each month. The amount paid by your bank is a predetermined amount that you have authorized. Your bank will make these payments from either your checking or savings account, according to the instructions you have provided on your agreement with AMS. Payments will be made until the total amount due to the college is paid in full. Automatic payments are used to pay mortgages, car payments, and other types of bills.

When you use AMS to pay your school tuition, your bank sends your payment on the first of the month directly to the bank that AMS uses to collect tuition payments. Before any payment is made, AMS provides evidence of your authorization for tuition payments to your bank. Your bank will usually verify this authorization with you and then set up the payment schedule. It is important to remember that AMS and your college never see your bank account or have any direct access to your account. You never lose any control of your account. State and federal laws strictly control the automatic payment process. With AMS your payments are made on the first of each month.

BUDGET PERIOD

To qualify for the three-month payment plan, student applications must be received by AMS by August 11 for the fall semester or December 10 for the spring semester. The budget period is August through October for the fall semester, and December through February for the spring semester. The AMS Tuition Pay Monthly Plan is not available for courses offered during the summer semester.

HOW TO APPLY FOR AMS

To enroll in the Tuition Pay Monthly plan simply go to their Web site at www.tuitionpay.com and click on "enroll now."

WHAT IF I HAVE QUESTIONS ABOUT MY ACCOUNT?

There is always an account representative who can answer questions about your AMS account once it has been established. You can call 1-800-556-6684 and speak to your account representative. You may also contact the Student Accounts Office at 804/289-8147.
Scholarships

Scholarship funds are available for School of Continuing Studies’ students who are actively pursuing a planned program of study and have completed 12 semester hours in the School of Continuing Studies. Deadline for applications is July 1.

Applications for scholarships may be obtained from the School of Continuing Studies or online.

Richmond Dry Goods/Children’s Wear Digest Scholarship. Three scholarships were established by the Richmond Dry Goods Company in 1919, 1944 and 1945, and were combined in 1995 into one scholarship for students in the School of Continuing Studies.

Larus and Brother Company Scholarship. Established in 1945 by Larus and Brother Company, a Richmond-based cigarette manufacturer that ceased operations in 1974, as a scholarship for the Evening School of Business.

Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation Scholarship. Established in 1945 by Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation, a leading title insurance company in Richmond, as a scholarship for the Evening School of Business.

Martin L. Shotzberger Scholarship. Established in 1968 by alumni and friends in recognition of Dr. Shotzberger’s years as the first dean of University College, now the School of Continuing Studies, as he left to become president of Catawba College in Salisbury, N.C. Dr. Shotzberger holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in Business Administration from University of Richmond, as well as an honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

J. May Reid Scholarship in Retail. Established in 1999 by Children’s Wear Digest, Inc. in appreciation of Mrs. Reid’s 20 years of dedicated service to the company, to be awarded to a student in the retail management program of the School of Continuing Studies.

Standard Oil Company of New Jersey Scholarship. Established in 1945 by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, now Exxon Corporation, as a scholarship for the Evening School.

Eugene B. Sydnor Scholarship. Established in 1915 by Eugene B. Sydnor, former president of Richmond Dry Goods Company, Inc. and vice president of Virginia Mechanics Institute in Richmond, as a scholarship for the Evening School.

Jean H. Proffitt Scholarship. Established in 1996 by alumni, students, and friends in honor of Jean H. Proffitt, who has been an inspiration to and advocate for many thousands of Evening School students, upon her retirement after 36 years of service. This scholarship has no minimum hour requirements and is available to all degree-seeking students.

Thomas and Doris Pearson Endowed Scholarship. Established in 2002 by Thomas Pearson to support undergraduate students in the School of Continuing Studies who display good citizenship and act in a manner that enhances the University’s program.

School of Continuing Studies 40th Anniversary Scholarship. Established in 2002 in recognition of the School of Continuing Studies’ 40th anniversary.

Tuition Assistance

Recognizing the value of college training in the evening, many organizations in Richmond and the surrounding area pay tuition, in whole or in part for their employees. Students should inquire about possible educational benefits offered by their employers.

Veterans Affairs

Students eligible to receive educational benefits under the Veterans Readjustment Acts and other public laws for veterans, active servicemen, children, widows or wives of disabled or deceased veterans must submit an application to the Veterans Administration (VA) prior to registration to ensure maximum benefits. Eligible students must request a Certificate of Enrollment from the VA Coordinator each term, including the summer session. VA checks then are sent directly to the student.

The VA requires both the University and the student to notify the VA promptly if there is a change in course load.

Students are expected to progress satisfactorily toward their approved educational objective. Instances of poor academic performance, courses taken which do not count toward an approved program, repeated courses and/or excessive absences or withdrawals must be reported. Such instances may result in a reduction or loss of benefits. For further information, contact the VA coordinator in the Office of the University Registrar, 804/289-8395.

Financial Aid

In addition to the scholarships named above, there are other sources of financial assistance available to students in the School of Continuing Studies. Generally, a student must be enrolled or unconditionally accepted for enrollment on at least a half-time basis (six credits) in an eligible degree or certificate program in order to be eligible for consideration for financial aid. (All SCS degree and certificate programs are eligible for financial aid consideration except the Leadership Studies and Liberal Arts certificate programs.) In addition, the student must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident (or other eligible non-citizen) and must be making Satisfactory Academic Progress (see below) toward his/her degree or certificate.

Federal financial assistance is available in the form of Federal Pell Grants and Federal Direct Loans. Pell Grants are provided to low-income undergraduate students who have not already earned a degree but who are working toward a degree. Pell Grant recipients must be enrolled for at least three credit hours. The grants do not have to be repaid.

Federal Direct Loans are low interest loans for students who are enrolled in an eligible degree or certificate program (see exception noted above) for at least six credit hours. Annual loan limits vary from $2,625 to $10,500 depending on grade level and dependency status. Subsidized Direct Loans are available to students who demonstrate financial need; the federal government pays the accrued interest on these loans while the student is enrolled. Unsubsidized Direct Loans are available to students regardless of demonstrated need; students are responsible for accrued interest on these loans.

Eligibility for the Federal Pell Grant and Federal Direct Loans is determined by completion of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the University of Richmond Financial Aid Supplemental Application. An additional loan application is required for the Direct Loan program. These forms are available from the Financial Aid office, Sarah Brunet Hall, web address: www.oncampus.richmond.edu/financialaid/ (Tel.: 804/289-8438, e-mail: finaid@richmond.edu). Please note that if you will need financial assistance in order to pay for your tuition charges, then the required applications must be completed at least six weeks prior to the start of the enrollment period.

The Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant (TAG) is available to full-time students who are residents of Virginia and who are enrolled in a degree program. (The amount of the grant for 2003-04 was $2,210 for the academic year.) TAG applications may be obtained from the Financial Aid office. Deadline for applications: July 31.

The federal government requires that a student be making Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) toward his/her degree or certificate in order to remain eligible for consideration for financial aid. The University of Richmond’s SAP policy for the School of Continuing Studies students requires, by the end of the second semester and thereafter, achievement of a cumulative G.P.A. of at least 2.0. In addition, students must pass at least 67% of the course work attempted. The maximum timeframe allowed for completion of a program is 150% of the program length. (For example, if the program requires 60 hours to complete the maximum number of hours attempted to complete the program cannot exceed 90 hours.

NOTE: Return of Financial Aid When a Student Withdraws. A student who withdraws during a semester may be entitled to a refund of certain charges as outlined in the Refund Policy (see Financial Information section of this catalog). Withdrawal may also affect a student’s financial aid eligibility for the semester as outlined in the federal Return of Title IV Program Funds Policy and the Return of Non-Title IV Program Funds Policy.

Alumni Discount Policy

Alumni who received a bachelor’s degree from the University of Richmond School of Continuing Studies, University College, Jepson School of Leadership, Robins School of Business, or School of Arts and Sciences are eligible for a 50% discount in SCS undergraduate credit classes (except for summer school courses/programs or already discounted programs). Registration is on a space-available basis. Contact the School of Continuing Studies at 804/289-8133 for details before attempting to register.

No discount is granted for the Teacher Licensure Program.
Flexible Ways to Earn Credit

The School of Continuing Studies has a liberal transfer policy and matriculated students can earn credits toward their degree through examination College Level Examination Program (CLEP), independent study, or through portfolio assessment of prior learning. Consult your academic advisor for details.

Credit By Examination

The School of Continuing Studies awards credit based on acceptable performance in specified tests of the College Level Examination Program (CLEP). Generally, a student may not attempt credit by examination for a course in which a failing grade was received or for a basic course in those areas in which acceptable college credit has been earned at a more advanced level. For information about general and subject examinations, contact the School of Continuing Studies.

Independent Study

An Independent Study course is a course taken with faculty supervision for knowledge enhancement beyond the courses offered in a particular area of interest. In rare cases, when scheduling or other conflicts exist, a regular course may be taken as an independent study. Independent Study courses may be used in the Areas of Study and General Distribution and may be used to enhance courses in the major.

A student who has completed at least 60 semester hours of academic work toward a bachelor’s degree may elect to take up to 12 hours through Independent Study. A student who has completed 30 semester hours of academic work toward an associate’s degree may elect to take up to six hours through Independent Study. Prior permission of the Dean is required.

Transfer Credit

Courses offered in transfer will be evaluated for acceptance provided the work was taken at an institution accredited as degree-granting by a recognized regional accrediting body for higher education at the time the course work is completed. A grade or equivalent of C (2.0) or better must have been earned in the particular course. Course work accepted in transfer shall be applied to specific degree requirements subject to the discretion of the School of Continuing Studies. Transfer work will be accepted during the final semester of a program only with prior approval. CLEP exams are considered transfer credits.

The School of Continuing Studies generally does not accept credits earned with a Pass/No Pass designation.

Credit in English Composition is not automatically transferred. If a student earned a C or better, he or she may take the SCS English Challenge Exam. If passed, academic credit for English 101U will be transferred pending successful completion of English 100U, The Research Process.

No transfer credit shall be formally accepted or recorded until the University has received an official transcript directly from the records office of the institution which offered the course work. If course work is being transferred from more than one institution, a transcript must be received from each institution. It is the responsibility of the student to be aware of the unit of credit awarded when enrolling at another institution for the purpose of transferring credits. Transferable work completed on the quarter hour system will be accepted at two-thirds of a semester hour.

Transfer credits will be accepted during the semester prior to graduation only with prior approval.

Note: Courses offered in transfer will be evaluated for acceptance provided the work was

Portfolio Assessment of Prior Learning

Yet another way for students to earn academic credit is by portfolio assessment of prior learning. This involves developing a learning portfolio that demonstrates college-level learning that occurred on the job or during training, through volunteer work or by other means. By preparing and submitting a learning portfolio, SCS students can earn up to 30 credits toward a bachelor’s degree and 15 credits toward an associate’s degree. Six hours of portfolio credit may be applied toward the certificate or toward the major. Students become eligible to submit portfolios after completing 12 semester hours at the University of Richmond.

A portfolio is a formal written communication made up of an introductory essay, a detailed narrative on a specific course and documentation. Portfolios have been successfully submitted in leadership, journalism, English, speech, and many other disciplines. These portfolios are available for examination in the SCS office.

In order to submit a portfolio, a student must enroll in ADED 200U Experiential Learning and Portfolio Preparation. This course serves as an elective and provides students with the necessary information about how to evaluate their experiential learning, match the learning to a course, and how to prepare a portfolio. At completion of the course, each student is able to make a decision about whether to proceed in earning credit in this manner. Students who have completed the course are eligible to submit portfolios throughout their academic careers at the University.

Students who have completed ADED 200U and wish to earn credit by portfolio assessment register for ADED 201U Portfolio Submission and Assessment during the regular registration period and pay the nonrefundable assessment fee of $100. Portfolios can be submitted at any time, however the following submission dates determine when credit is awarded.

For credit earned in the spring semester, portfolios must be submitted by Feb 15.

For credit earned in the summer semester, portfolios must be submitted by June 15.

For credit earned in the fall semester, portfolios must be submitted by October 15.

Qualified faculty members with expertise in the particular discipline review the portfolios. The assessors will recommend credit based on the extent and depth of the student’s learning as demonstrated in the portfolio. The review process may include an interview with the student. After reviewing the assessors’ recommendations, the associate dean will make the final decision regarding credit.

Once the credits have been awarded, students will be billed $150 per semester hour. Portfolio credits will show a P for passed and the specific course in which credit was assigned. Portfolio credits do not carry a letter grade and do not affect the grade point average.

Associate Dean, School of Continuing Studies, University of Richmond

“The world around us is constantly changing. In the past we could graduate from high school or college and education was considered complete. Today we must prepare ourselves to be lifelong learners ... Always continuing our pursuit of knowledge—never stopping.”
Registrations are accepted on the Web via BannerWeb at https://bannerweb.richmond.edu. Complete registration instructions are printed in the Schedule of Classes and on the Web and are available prior to each semester—July for the fall semester and November for the spring semester. Call 804/289-8133 for the Schedule of Classes or view a list on the University of Richmond’s website at www.richmond.edu.

Normal Class Load
The University of Richmond operates on the semester system. A normal course load for students who are employed full time is six semester hours. Some students find it possible to pursue nine semester hours. Your academic advisor will help you determine the appropriate schedule.

During the Fall and Spring semesters, students may not take over 17.5 credit hours without the dean’s approval.

Students may enroll in no more than a total of 18 credit hours during the entire Summer Term without the Dean’s approval.

Changes (Add/Drop, Withdrawal)
Changes in registration (Add/Drop, withdrawal) must be initiated by the student within the deadlines specified in the academic calendar. Ordinarily, a student may not withdraw from a course after the end of the seventh week of classes except for medical reasons.

Course Drop (using BannerWeb) before the end of the second week of classes is not shown on the academic record. Withdrawal after the end of the second week through the seventh week of classes carries the grade of W on the academic record.

All withdrawals after the second week of class must be requested in writing to the School of Continuing Studies. The withdrawal date will be the date the written request is received.

Students who stop attending class without notifying the School of Continuing office will receive the grade of V (failure due to excessive absences) regardless of the last date of attendance and are responsible for payment of any fees due.

Audit
Normally, courses are taken for grade and academic credit, however, a student may take a course as audit. The audit reserves a place in the class for the student, but there are no attendance requirements nor credit given at the end of the term. The audited course is shown as such on the permanent academic record with a grade of Z for adults.

Students who wish to audit a course or courses register and pay in the usual manner. After registering, the Audit Form must be completed to change a course from credit to audit status. Audit forms are available from the Registrar or the School of Continuing Studies office. The completed form must be filed in the School of Continuing Studies office prior to the mid-semester date published in the academic calendar. Once filed, the audit status is not reversible. Students who took a course as audit (grade of Z) may not later take the same course for a standard grade.

Graduate Study
Upper level undergraduate students may be approved to enroll in a limited number of graduate courses for either undergraduate or graduate credit purposes, according to the following criteria:

For Undergraduate Credit
School of Continuing Studies (SCS) undergraduate students may enroll in SCS graduate-level course work for undergraduate credit, provided they meet the following criteria:

• an overall GPA of 3.0 or above;
• the written approval of their program director; and,
• ability to succeed in course work at the graduate level, based upon a combination of prior experience and/or formal college education.

Note: Specific programs within the SCS may require additional criteria.

For Graduate Credit
School of Continuing Studies (SCS) undergraduate students may enroll in SCS graduate level course work for graduate credit, provided they meet the following criteria:
• satisfactory completion (including transfer) of at least 100 semester hours of course work toward the baccalaureate degree;
• an overall GPA of 3.30 or above; and,
• acceptance into a graduate certificate program as a regular student by its standard procedures.

Until students have completed a baccalaureate degree, no more than three courses may be taken for graduate credit and not more than two courses may be taken in any given semester.

Although a student who is accepted in this option may be enrolled in undergraduate and graduate courses simultaneously, the undergraduate and graduate transcripts will be kept separately. Courses taken for graduate credit under this option will not apply to the bachelor’s degree.

Note: Specific programs within the SCS may require additional criteria.

Class Attendance

Each student is expected to attend all meetings of all classes, including lectures, seminars, laboratories and drills, in which he or she is enrolled. The specific attendance policy in each course, however, is determined by the instructor of the course, subject to the section on University Holidays below. The specific attendance policy for each course will be announced to the students and distributed on the course syllabus at the beginning of the course.

Faculty members will honor an official notification from the appropriate dean that a student is to be excused for participation in a University-sponsored event, such as choral performances off campus, intercollegiate athletic events, or judicial hearings at which the student must be present.

A student generally will be held responsible for all work of a class or laboratory missed during an absence. Acceptance of any excuse for an absence, other than those excused by the appropriate dean in the previous paragraph, and any provision for make up, will be at the discretion of the instructor provided it is consistent with the announced policy for the course and with the University Holiday Schedule below. Missed classes, work, tests and/or excessive absences with or without good cause may result in a poorer grade, or failure, in the course.

(Note: Students enrolled in Business School or School of Continuing Studies courses must attend at least 75% of the class meetings regardless of the reasons for absence to be eligible to receive credit for the course.)

Generally, absences that may be excused by faculty members include accident or illness, death or serious illness of a family member, bona fide religious holiday observance, or participation in other University activities such as field trips. Students should make arrangements with their instructors as far in advance as possible for the make up of any missed work. Students experiencing difficulty in making reasonable arrangements for make up work may see their dean.

University Holidays

With the increasing diversity of the University community and the limited flexibility in setting the academic calendar, it is not possible to avoid some religious and secular holidays that are very important to some members of our faculty, staff, and student body. However, the University is very sensitive to the special needs of those who need to observe such holidays and will make accommodations for them to make up the time missed if arrangements are made in advance.

The University is officially closed on New Year’s Day, Thanksgiving Day, and Christmas. In addition, some schools are closed for classes on Memorial Day, July 4th, and Labor Day while others hold classes on those days. (See the appropriate academic calendar for specifics.)

Other holidays affecting University community members include Martin Luther King Day, Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur, the first two days of Passover, Good Friday, and Easter Sunday. In consideration of their significance for our students, the students who observe these holidays will be given an opportunity to make up missed work in both laboratories and lecture courses. If a test or examination is given on the first class day after one of these holidays, it must not cover material introduced in class on that holiday.

Faculty and staff should be aware that Jewish and Islamic holidays begin at sunset on the evening before the published date of the holiday.

The University recognizes that there are other holidays, both religious and secular, which are of importance to some individuals and groups on campus. Such occasions include, but are not limited to, Sukkoth, the last two days of Passover, Shavuot, Shemini Atzerat, and Simchat Torah, as well as the Islamic New Year, Ra’s al-sana, and the Islamic holidays Eid-al-Fitr and Eid-al-Adha.

Students who wish to observe any such holidays must inform their instructors within the first two weeks of each semester of their intent to observe the holiday even when the exact date of the holiday will not be known until later, so that alternative arrangements convenient to both the student and instructor can be made at the earliest opportunity. Students who make such arrangements will not be required to attend classes or take examinations on the designated days, and faculty must provide reasonable opportunities for such students to make up missed work and examinations. To facilitate this, faculty will announce and distribute all anticipated test and examination dates on the course syllabus, distributed at the beginning of each semester. Students should be aware that faculty may need to adjust these dates as necessary.

Class Meetings

Class meeting times and locations are noted in the Schedule of Classes, and any corrections are noted on the Web at https://bannerweb.richmond.edu/.

Seldom are classes canceled. If cancellation due to severe weather is necessary, a notice will appear on the television or be on WRVA radio encouraging students to call the University hotline at 804/289-8760.

Grading Policies

The level of students’ performance in classwork and examinations is indicated by letters. A (excellent), B (good), C (average), and D (poor) indicate that the work has been passed. The foregoing grades may be accompanied by a plus (+) or minus (-) to indicate a relative position within the grade category. Z shows that a course was audited. S and U indicate satisfactory or unsatisfactory performance in nonacademic courses or in a Pass/No Pass credit course. W indicates that the student withdrew from a course with a passing average. Marks indicating failure are included as such in the grade point average by F, M (withdrew from a course with a failing average), and V (failure because of excessive absences). The X indicates that the grade is not available from the instructor. The assignment of grades is the sole right and responsibility of the instructor.

I and Y mean that a course has not been completed by the term’s end. The I, which provisionally counts as a failing grade, is given when the reasons for incomplete work are deemed unjustifiable by the instructor. The work is to be made up by the date the instructor specifies, but no later than the midsemester of the next regular semester. If the work is not made up during the grace period, the I will be converted to F. The Y, which does not count as a failing grade, is given when the reasons for incomplete work are deemed justifiable by the instructor, or at the end of the first term of a course that continues into a succeeding term. There is no deadline for completion of the work unless the instructor specifies. In all cases, it is the student’s responsibility to make arrangements for and progress to the completion of an incomplete course.

Grades are deemed correct unless notification to the contrary is received by the University Registrar within three (3) months after the close of the term specified.

ENGL 100U/101U and ENGL 112U Requirement

For those programs in which ENGL 100U/101U and 112U are a required, a passing grade of C or better is necessary to satisfactorily meet the requirement.

Transcripts

Most colleges and universities require an official transcript to consider transfer credit. If you need a transcript, contact the Office of the University Registrar located in Sara Brunet Hall or visit the website at http://oncampus.richmond.edu/academics/registrar. Requests must be made in writing.

Residency Requirement

The bachelor degrees of the School of Continuing Studies require 121 semester hours. At least 60 semester hours must be completed in the School of Continuing Studies including English 100U/101U and 112U within the first 13 hours. Students who were previously enrolled in another school of the University of Richmond must complete at least 45 semester hours in the School of Continuing Studies to receive a School of Continuing Studies degree. The last 12 hours must be taken in the School of Continuing Studies.

Associate degrees require 61 semester hours. At least 30 semester hours must be completed in the School of Continuing Studies including English 100U/101U and English 112U within the first 13 hours. The last 12 hours must be taken in the School of Continuing Studies.

Certificates in Information Systems and Liberal Arts require 30 or 31 semester hours. Twenty-four semester hours must be completed in the School of Continuing Studies.

In Human Resource Management and Leadership Studies, the certificates require 21 semester hours and post-baccalaureate certificates require 22 semester hours. All course work must be completed with the School of Continuing Studies.

In Education, the certificate in Applied Studies in Teacher Licensure Preparation requires 28 hours.

The Paralegal Studies certificate requires 36 semester hours, 30 of which must be completed in the School of Continuing Studies.

NOTE: Transfer work will be accepted during the final semester of any program only with prior approval.

Credit and Grade Point Average

The University of Richmond uses the semester hour value. A semester hour is determined by a combination of factors that include contact time with a faculty member in a formal setting and expectations of independent student work through a nominal 15-week semester.

The grade point average is based on two factors:

- GPA Hours - The accumulation of academic semester hours that have grades to which grade point values are assigned; and

- Grade Points - Given for each semester hour's grade according to the following scale:

  - A+ 4.0  B+ 3.3  C+ 2.3  D+ 1.3
  - A  4.0  B  3.0  C  2.0  D  1.0
  - A- 3.7  B- 2.7  C- 1.7  D- 0.7
  - F  0.0  I  0.0  M  0.0  V  0.0

Calculation - The grade point average is calculated by dividing the total number of grade points earned by the total number of GPA hours. The grade point average is represented to two significant decimal figures.

The accumulations and average are shown each term on the permanent academic record. Also shown is the accumulation of Earned Semester Hours. Earned hours are the academic semester hours in which the student has earned passing grades, plus semester hours credit, if any, for accepted transfer work.
Academic Reports

Grades are available on BannerWeb generally 48 hours after the grade due date published in the Academic Calendar. Students can also check grade changes, incomplete make-ups, and posting of transfer credit throughout the year from any location. Grades are deemed correct unless notification to the contrary is received by the University Registrar within three (3) months after the close of the term specified.

If students need an official copy of their academic record, they can request a transcript through the Office of the University Registrar. All courses taken at the University of Richmond become a part of the permanent academic record.

Academic Standing

Students are expected to achieve in the classroom and make steady academic progress. Good standing is defined as earning at least 2.0 grade points for each academic hour attempted. A student is automatically placed on Academic Warning (AW) when the student’s cumulative grade point (GPA) falls below a 2.0 at the conclusion of any term of attendance—fall, spring, or summer. A student on academic warning should take active steps to improve academic performance. A student remains on AW for one term of attendance at the end of which time the student must obtain a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0. Failure to achieve this GPA results in the student being placed on Academic Probation.

A student is placed on Academic Probation (AP) when the student’s cumulative GPA falls below 2.0 for two consecutive terms of attendance. Students on AP are expected to improve their cumulative GPA within two consecutive terms of attendance. A student who achieves a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0 is removed from Academic Probation. If a student fails to meet the minimum of a 2.0 GPA, he/she will be suspended from the School of Continuing Studies. Once placed on Suspension (SP), a student may reapply for admission after one full academic year from the term of suspension.

Undergraduate Degree-seeking Students

Students who have not completed a class in the School of Continuing Studies for six or more successive semesters (including summer) must resubmit an application and be readmitted under the current catalog requirements. Academic files will be kept for five years from the date of the last class taken. After that time they will be destroyed.

Undergraduate Nondegree-seeking and Unclassified Students

Students may earn 12 semester hours within the school as a nondegree-seeking (NDS)/unclassified student after which she or he will be encouraged to declare a major or explore options with a student advisor.

To Change Degree or Major

Students wishing to change the degree and/or major into which they were originally accepted, must submit the request in writing. If approved, the degree requirements will be those of the most recent catalog and an updated audit sheet will be mailed to the student with acknowledgment of the change. A meeting with the student advisor may or may not be required.

To Apply for a Minor

A student must complete the Minor Declaration Form available in the SCS. The minor will appear on the official transcript and all classes in the minor must be completed at the University of Richmond.

Evaluation

Instructors establish grading criteria for their courses and prepare and submit the final course reports (using the grades defined under Grading Policies) to the University Registrar for recording. In the event of a question about the accuracy of the recorded grade, a student should direct inquiries to the instructor and/or the Office of the University Registrar within three months of the specified semester.

It is recognized that each class and each student in a class has unique characteristics that the instructor alone is in the best position to evaluate; consequently, except in unusual circumstances, formal appeals to others concerning the evaluation on which a grade is based are not appropriate.
If unusual circumstances appear to have existed which could have affected the evaluation, the student should first bring the matter to the attention of the instructor (if available). If that informal inquiry is impossible, or if its results are disputed, the student may next bring the matter to the attention of the Student Advisor. In the event of continued dispute, the student may formally petition the Dean, then the Academic Council for a decision.

Graduation

The University graduation ceremonies are held in May. Students planning to complete BAS, BLA, AAS, ALA, Certificate, Post-Baccalaureate Certificate, Graduate Certificate or Master’s degree requirements in the coming May or August must file a Degree Application form by the second Friday in September. Forms may be obtained from the Dean’s office. Students who plan to complete requirements in the Summer School (no more than 12 hours) participate in the May ceremony as prospective August graduates. (NOTE: No transfer credit will be accepted during the semester prior to graduation.) Attendance at commencement is required unless absentia status is approved by the University Registrar prior to commencement. Requests for absentia status must be made in writing to the Registrar and received eight working days before the ceremony.

Degree With Honors (Latin Honors)

General academic honors of three ranks are awarded only to graduates receiving associate and baccalaureate degrees on the basis of their cumulative grade point average of work completed at the University of Richmond.

- Cum Laude 3.20 - 3.49
- Magna Cum Laude 3.50 - 3.79
- Summa Cum Laude 3.80 - 4.00

Changes in Catalog Information

Caution: The course offerings and requirements of the University of Richmond are under continual examination and revision. This catalog is not a contract; it merely presents the offerings and requirements in effect at the time of publication and in no way guarantees that the offerings and requirements will not change. The University specifically reserves the right to change requirements for any major, minor, and/or program, and to implement them during any particular year.

The student assumes full responsibility for compliance with all academic requirements.

In the event the University adopts new general education and/or major, minor, and program requirements, efforts will be made to accommodate hardships during the transition period.

All course work must be completed prior to Student Teaching (EDUC 460U) and the accompanying Seminar (EDUC 332U or EDUC 334U). Passing scores on Praxis I and II must be submitted before elementary or secondary Student Teaching.

Transfer Courses: Because of the nature of course work in the Teacher Licensure Program, many college courses might not be acceptable for transfer to the Program. All requests to transfer courses into the TLP must include the course description and be submitted to the Director of the Teacher Licensure Program at least four weeks prior to the student beginning the Program. No more than two courses, not to exceed six semester hours, may be transferred into the Program.
Grade Requirements: A grade point average of 3.0 must be achieved for completion of the Teacher Licensure Program and before applying for a Virginia teaching license. No more than one “C” grade will be permitted in classes taken for credit in the Program at the University of Richmond.

NOTE: Students who have earned a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited college or university and desire admission to the Certificate in Applied Studies in Teacher Licensure Preparation may call 804/289-8427 for an application packet. Students who have not yet earned a bachelor’s degree must first apply to the Bachelor of Liberal Arts (BLA) program. These students may apply to the Certificate in Applied Studies in Teacher Licensure Preparation after earning approximately 50 semester hours towards the BLA.

EMERGENCY SERVICES MANAGEMENT

On-line Degree Completion Program:

Every year natural, man-made, and national security disasters and emergencies threaten the safety of communities and their citizens and the productivity of their businesses. Our degrees in emergency services management assists in preparing the student to manage public sector emergency management and private sector business continuity programs in the context of events ranging from routine emergencies to catastrophes. We focus on the integration of emergency management, fire, emergency medical services, law enforcement, business continuity, and voluntary agencies in a comprehensive approach to protecting life, property, government and the economy. Minors and certificates in Emergency Management, Business Continuity and Homeland Defense give the student an opportunity to specialize in either public or private sector program management. Online courses allow you to work with fellow professionals across the United States in a diverse and experienced student body representing virtually every emergency related discipline.

The degree completion program allows students to complete from 60-64 semester hours of on-line course work toward a Bachelor of Applied Studies in Emergency Services Management with a Minor in Emergency Management, Business Continuity, or Homeland Defense.

I. Communication Skills: 16 semester hours

ENGL 101U, ENGL 112U, ESM 303U and ISYS 101U must be completed within the first 16 hours of the program. ENGL 101U and ENGL 112U must be completed with a grade of “C” or better.

The Graduate Certificate in Disaster Science and the Master of Disaster Science deal with the causation, impact, and outcomes of a wide variety of natural and man-made disasters in an interdisciplinary context. Both programs build on professional technical training and undergraduate education by involving students in the discovery of the theory of disasters and teaching them the research tools needed to discover new knowledge in the field. The framework of these graduate programs is ideal for the individual who needs a more in depth understanding of disasters in relation to emergency management duties and responsibilities.

No transfer hours will be accepted into the Graduate Certificate in Disaster Science.

INFORMATION SYSTEMS

Bachelor of Applied Studies

The explosion in information technology has transformed today's workplace, creating incredible opportunities for professionals in the field of information systems. The Information Systems major is designed to educate students in the development, implementation, and management of information technologies. The conceptual understanding and technical knowledge of database management systems, programming, telecommunications, and systems analysis and design methodologies are applied to web design, e-business, and the management of IT. Interdisciplinary courses in law and technology and disaster recovery are available. Oral and written communication skills, math skills, and analytical skills are emphasized.

Up to 30 hours of business courses may be included in the 121 semester hours for the Bachelor of Applied Studies degree. A student may transfer no more than 60 hours into the bachelor degree with a maximum of six semester hours in the major.

Weekend College (Accelerated)
Bachelor of Liberal Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies

The Weekend College (Accelerated) is a unique academic program designed to prepare students for successful careers in the commercial, industrial and service sectors of the economy as well as the non-profit world. Students will examine the universe as an integrated whole and will be encouraged to expand their intellectual and practical horizons. The goal of the program is to promote the growth of effective citizens who bring to life a wider, more holistic perspective on the world around them. Weekend College also responds to the growing need in the corporate arena for leaders who are trained in problem solving and conflict analysis, whose approach to complex matters of business and commerce is less vocational and more sophisticated as well as being vigorously practical.

Weekend College participants take one highly concentrated course at a time. The curriculum consists of ten interdisciplinary six-semester hour courses. Over a two year period, students will complete five courses a year, during fall, spring and summer semesters for a total of 60 semester hours; two courses each fall and spring semester and one six hour course in each May term of summer school.

Students will be organized into component groups who will proceed through the program together. A small number of seats in most courses will be set aside for non-participating members of the College.

Class meetings will be held on Friday evenings and Saturday during the day. Class work will be supplemented with a weekly Preceptorial, an on-line faculty-led discussion on some topic of general interest.

Students entering the program must have earned a minimum of 45 - 60 transferable semester hours of undergraduate general education courses. These must include the completion of a College Composition course with a minimum grade of “C” from a regionally accredited institution. Students transferring into the University of Richmond School of Continuing Studies must also pass an English Challenge Exam.

In order to graduate with the Bachelor of Liberal Arts with a major in Interdisciplinary Studies the following requirements must be satisfied:

GENERAL EDUCATION: 37 semester hours

English Composition using one of the following alternatives:
1. ENGL 100U/101U - The Research Process/Composition (1/3 semester hours) with a grade of C or better at the University of Richmond School of Continuing Studies, or
2. A College Composition course from a regionally accredited institution, plus successful completion of the English Challenge Exam. Those who do not pass the English Challenge Exam will be required to complete ENGL 100U/101U with a minimum of “C” within the first twelve semester hours of the program, or
3. ENGL 210-Advanced Composition from a Virginia Community College.

Note: All students admitted to this program must complete ENGL 100U, The Research Process, within the first 12 semester hours of the program.

PARALEGAL STUDIES

Bachelor of Applied Studies

The legal assistant field is exploding as paralegals carve out their own professional niche. According to the U.S. Labor Department, the demand for paralegals will continue to increase. One of the most exciting aspects of the legal profession is that it is constantly evolving. As new cases are decided, new precedents are set. As new issues develop, new areas of the law are created. The University continually updates and expands its curriculum to ensure that its educational offerings reflect the latest developments in the practice of law. Professional ethics is an integral and crucial component of paralegal education and practice. Ethical conduct in the profession is expected and required at all times. Thus, every course in the Paralegal Studies Program demonstrates the ethical duties, rules, responsibilities, and guidelines that are necessary for paralegal practice.

No more than 30 hours of business courses may be included in the 121 semester hours for the Bachelor of Applied Studies degree. A student may transfer no more than 60 hours with a maximum of 6 semester hours into the major.

Includes helping strategies, verbal and nonverbal communication, values, stress management, and use of community resources. 3 sem. hrs.

345U | The History of Ideas. Exploring the intellectual development within the western tradition. Required for accelerated BLA. Limited space available for non-Weekend College students. 6 sem. hrs.

346U | The History of Human Expression. Examination of the arts in their wide variety: visual, literary, plastic and melodic. Required for accelerated BLA. Limited space available for non-Weekend College students. 6 sem. hrs.

398U | Selected Topics. 1-6 sem. hrs.

Information Systems (ISYS)

101U | Online Learning and Teaching. Intensive short course that explains in depth the software and technology used in the university’s online courses. Discusses how changes in learning methods and styles relate to changes in the way we work, addresses intellectual property issues, and examines the future of online learning. Strongly recommended for students with no previous online course experience. 1 sem. br.

198U | Selected Topics. 1-3 sem. hrs.

201U | Software Tools for Communication and Research. Helps develop oral and written communication skills, using technology tools commonly required in the classroom and workplace. Use e-mail and online conferencing software for classroom communications. Comprehensive coverage of Microsoft Word and Power Point for writing papers and developing presentations. Use Internet browsers, search engines, and online library databases for research. Build simple Web sites presenting information in an accessible format. Computer assignments required. 3 sem. hrs.

202U | Software Tools for Data Management and Analysis. For experienced personal computer users. Helps develop skills in data organization, analysis, and reporting, using spreadsheet and database software. Use Microsoft Excel to format data, use calculations and functions, perform basic statistics, and produce customized graphs and charts for reports. Use Microsoft Access to build multi-table databases with input forms, queries, and reports. Prerequisite: ISYS 201 or equivalent proficiency is recommended. Computer assignments required. 3 sem. hrs.

203U | Information Technology. Studies use of information technology in organizations to facilitate decision-making and achieve competitive advantage. Overview of computer hardware, operating systems, application software, networks, and combinations of these components into common computer “architectures.” Technological trends will be covered, impacting business and personal purchasing decisions. Communicate clear user requirements for development and enhancement of effective information systems. Computer assignments required. 3 sem. hrs.

204U | Hardware and Operating Systems. Study of computer systems hardware and operating systems. Includes overview of digital logic, basics of large-scale and very large-scale integration, and components necessary to create a functioning computer. Operating systems reviewed from primitive functions and inter-process communications through basic program loading, task control, and input/output operations. Computer assignments required. Prerequisites: ISYS 203U, MATH 103U or equivalent. 3 sem. hrs.

205U | Problem Solving with Programming. Computer programming concepts applicable to any programming language. Development of analytical and problem-solving skills for programming. Includes top-down design and building blocks of structured programming. Introduces the Java programming language and object-oriented concepts. Lecture, lab, and online assignments. 4 sem. hrs.
222U Discrete Structures for Computing. Helps develop abstract reasoning skills for computer programming. Sets, functions, elementary prepositional and predicate logic, Boolean algebra, elementary graph theory, matrices, proof techniques, random numbers, with applications to computing. Strong math background recommended. Prerequisite: college algebra or satisfactory score on the math placement test. 3 sem. hrs.

301U Telecommunications. Foundation knowledge in computer connectivity concepts, data communication standards, telecommunication methods, and serial data communication. Topics include: asynchronous and synchronous data transmission; modems, OSI model, PC communication hardware and software, telephone systems, wide area networks, and introduction to local area networks. Prerequisite: ISYS 204U. 3 sem. hrs.

302U Local Area Networks. Concepts of shared media local area networking including Ethernet, Token Ring, and Fiber Distributed Data Interface (FDDI). Topics include LAN definition, use, topology, media, standards, network interface cards (NIC), protocols (layer 2, 3, 4), repeaters, hubs, bridges, switches, and routers. Discussions include network design, design rules, administration, management and TCP/IP. Students present research projects on various networking topics. (Internet access required for current technology research.) Prerequisite: ISYS 204U. 3 sem. hrs.

306U Systems Analysis and Design. Methods and techniques necessary for conducting systems project from preliminary investigation of project through system implementation and evaluation. Includes participation in one or more systems design projects. Prerequisites: ISYS 203U. 3 sem. hrs.

307U Information Technology Evaluation and Selection. Guidelines and techniques for selection of computer hardware and software. Methods of system performance evaluation, vendor selection, and development of system support requirements for both hardware and software, from management perspective as well as information systems professional. Prerequisite: ISYS 204U. 3 sem. hrs.

311U Database Design. Logical and physical design of database systems: rules of normalization in data modeling, SQL programming, and physical design issues impacting the I/O performance of commercial-level databases. Oracle relational database platform. Computer assignments required. Prerequisites: ISYS 202U or equivalent, and ISYS 204U. (ISYS 306U is also recommended.) 3 sem. hrs.

351U Web Design and Development. Focus on planning and development of Web sites using proper design techniques, with design elements such as page layouts, graphics, color, lists, tables, frames, formatting, links, simple CSS styles, templates, and basic forms. Topics include graphics techniques and editing modification of digital pictures. HTML coding, Dreamweaver MX, and Java applets will be used to develop a website. Prerequisites: ISYS 201U or 202U, or equivalent proficiency. 3 sem. hrs.

352U Web Design and Development with Scripting. Use advanced CSS styles, VBScript and JavaScript for designing and creating dynamic and interactive Web sites. Code mouse rollovers, HTML form validation and verification, client/server-side scripts with programming elements like variables, loops, arrays, if statements, functions, and string manipulation. Topics include advanced multimedia, virtual reality concepts, web font control, and database connectivity using Dreamweaver and FrontPage database components. Dreamweaver MX, Microsoft FrontPage and Access are used. Prerequisites: ISYS 202U, ISYS 203U, and ISYS 351U, or equivalent preparation in both Web design and database. 3 sem. hrs.

353U Web Design and Development with Advanced Database Connectivity. Program client/server Web-based database applications for e-commerce and other uses with VBScript, JavaScript and SQL. Topics include advanced database connection concepts using ASP to view, add, delete, query and edit database records from a Web site. Pass values of cookies, hidden form fields, query strings, and session variables. Dreamweaver MX, Microsoft FrontPage and Access are used; Oracle database connectivity will be discussed. Prerequisites: ISYS 203U, ISYS 311U, and ISYS 352U, or equivalent preparation in both web design and database. 3 sem. hrs.

Note. ISYS courses numbered 355U and higher require completion of all math requirements for the major, as well as all business and ISYS core courses in the major.

355U Computer Programming in Java. Concepts of structured and object-oriented programming, including data types, control structures, functions, arrays, file operations, classes and inheritance. Emphasis on effective programming skills to promote software reusability, reliability and maintainability. Windows environment. Prerequisite: ISYS 204U and ISYS 222U (or calculus), or permission of the instructor. Lecture, lab, and online assignments. 4 sem. hrs.

356U Advanced Computer Programming in Java. Algorithm development and object-oriented concepts are expanded to develop applications, taking advantage of the Java Applications Programming Interface class libraries. Graphical User Interface (GUI) programs, exception handling, handling files and data streams, network connectivity, string handling and exception handling. Prerequisite: ISYS 355U. Lecture, lab, and online assignments. 4 sem. hrs.

370U Supply Chain Systems. Integrate operations management principles with the development of information technologies supporting supply chain activities in a firm. Apply information technologies to the management of production and service operations in corporate, government, and nonprofit organizations. Implement forecasting, quality management, inventory management, waiting lines, transportation and distribution methods in supply chain and enterprise systems. Investigate Internet architectures, database and data mining, enterprise resource planning systems, and other current technologies. Prerequisites: ISYS 311U, MATH 104U or Statistics, and Accounting, or departmental permission. 3 sem. hrs.

388U Internship in Information Systems: Applied Experiences in Information Systems in a Company Setting. For ISYS majors or minors; must have 12 credit hours completed in Information Systems course at ISYS 202U or higher, including at least six credits in 300-level ISYS courses; GPA 3.0 in Information Systems major, 2.75 overall. Students may receive credit for only one internship while enrolled in the School of Continuing Studies. Departmental permission required. 3 sem. hrs.

398U Selected Topics. 1-6 sem. hrs.

399U Independent Study. 1-6 sem. hrs.

450U Project Management. Practical and theoretical foundation for IT project management. Concepts and techniques for evaluating project proposals as well as managing technical and behavioral aspects of systems development projects. Project planning and estimation, scheduling, staffing and teamwork, costing and budgeting, managing change. Use of computerized tools (Microsoft Project and Excel) for project management, resource tracking, and reporting. Prerequisite: ISYS 306U. 3 sem. hrs.
490U Managing in an Information Age. Capstone course with an in-depth look at how organizations cope with the challenges of management in an information age. Using the case study method, management issues related to the Internet, electronic commerce, information for competitive advantage, design and management of IT architecture, and approaches to IT implementation are explored. Prerequisite: Completion of all business and all other Information Systems courses in the major are required. Departmental permission required. 3 sem. hrs.

499U Post-Baccalaureate Capstone Research. Guided formal research in the field of information systems, including development of the research proposal, literature review, selection of methodology, data collection, analysis, and written report. Presentation of final research paper to faculty and expert practitioners required. Prerequisites: 18 semester hours of ISYS. Departmental permission required. 3 sem. hrs.

Interdisciplinary Studies (IDST)

495U Capstone Course: Senior Seminar. Capstone course for Weekend College. Required for accelerated BLA. Admission permitted to Weekend College students only. 6 sem. hrs.

International Studies (ISTY)

149U International Studies/Global Economics. Focuses on providing an overview of basic economic principles and their application to analyzing the world's economic order. By special admission only. 3 sem. hrs.

249U International Studies/Global Introductions. Introduces student to world of international studies and global economics. Covers such factors as U.S. and foreign trade policies, sociocultural factors, international marketing, and impact of international trade on domestic economy. 3 sem. hrs.

301U Understanding the Global Village. Interdisciplinary course focusing on the trends in an increasingly interdependent yet fragmented world. Required for accelerated BLA. Limited space available for non-Weekend College students. 6 sem. hrs.

Japanese (JAPN)

101U-102U Elementary Japanese. Introduction to Japanese language. Prerequisite: JAPN 101U is prerequisite to 102U. 3-3 sem. hrs.

Journalism (JOUR)

205U Photojournalism. Theory and practice of news and feature photography, darkroom technique, and properties of light and film. (Student must have a 35mm single lens reflex camera.) 3 sem. hrs.

Law (LAW)

300U Business Law. Principles of law relating to legal problems encountered in work environment, including contracts, business organizations, and secured transactions. 3 sem. hrs.

Topics include financial planning: powers of attorney and advance medical directives; living facilities of elderly, pre-need contracts, viatical settlements, elderly abuse and social security. 3 sem. hrs.

305U Consumer Law. Overview of consumer protection, privacy, credit and banking laws. Special focus on Internet/E-commerce issues and the elderly, disabled and military as the “special classes of consumers.” (This class may be used as a focus course for Paralegal Studies majors.) 3 sem. hrs.

309U Personal Law. Introduction for layman as it pertains to everyday life, business, and activity in our society. 3 sem. hrs.

310U Women and the Law. Law as it pertains to today's women in their everyday lives and activities in society. Covers subject matter for all women—working woman, professional woman, homemaker, widow, single woman, married woman, single parent woman, and divorced woman—and their rights as individuals under law. 3 sem. hrs.

320U Law of Real Property. Methods of acquiring property; deeds, wills, inheritance; creating estates; fee simple, life, term of years; cotenancy; joint, in-common; liens; common law, mechanics; incorporeal interest in land, profit and easements; licenses; landlord and tenant; examination of title. 3 sem. hrs.

322U Survey of Personnel Law. Survey of federal and state statutes and laws which govern the employment relationship. Covers topics such as establishing the employment relationship, discharge of employees, employee discrimination, wages, hours, and benefits, conditions of employment, occupational safety and health, and other topics. 3 sem. hrs.

325U CyberLaw. Overview of federal and state laws, regulations and policies regarding operation and security of the Internet. Includes copyright, e-commerce and privacy issues. (May be used as a focus course for Information Systems and Paralegal Studies majors.) 3 sem. hrs.

326U Intellectual Property. Focus on building an understanding of trademarks, copyrights, patents and trade secrets and ownership thereof. (This class may be used as a focus course for Paralegal Studies majors.) 3 sem. hrs.

327U Cybercrimes. Provides an overview of cybercrimes, computer-related crime, computer security, and law enforcement's response. Includes a study of the evolving aspects of cyber laws, search and seizure of digital evidence and the enactment of post-September 11 laws and policies. (This class is a course in the Law and Technology minor and may be used as a focus course for Paralegal Studies majors.) 3 sem. hrs.

330U Terrorism Law. Examines current state of national and international law on terrorism, including aviation and maritime law as applicable. Considers practical issues involved in enforcing laws on terrorism, and studies the interaction of law and policy in the context of protection of society from its enemies while preserving the essential fabric of law. 3 sem. hrs.

398U Selected Topics. 1-6 sem. hrs.

399U Independent Study. 1-6 sem. hrs.

Leadership Studies (LDSP)

200U Introduction to Leadership Studies. Introduction to history and theory of leadership, to critical thinking and methods of inquiry as they bear on subject of leadership, to ethics of leadership, to basic leadership competencies, to relevant leadership contexts, and to leading groups and individuals. 3 sem. hrs.

321U Criminal Law. Addresses substantive knowledge, practical skills and competencies and ethical guidelines needed to work in criminal law area. 3 sem. hrs.

323U Interviewing and Investigation. Study of interviewing and investigation skills for paralegals in both criminal and civil cases. Includes interview techniques for children of varying ages or individuals from diverse cultures. 3 sem. hrs.

328U Advanced Legal Research. Advanced library research in federal case and statutory law, federal and state regulatory law and international law. Continuation of skills developed in Legal Research and Library Use course through in-depth research of complex legal issues. Prerequisite: LA 306U. 3 sem. hrs.

329U Computerized Legal Research. Comprehensive review of computerized legal research resources available to the paralegal, including Internet resources, online legal research databases, and CD-Rom mini-libraries. Exposure to resources available by legal subject matter and the crafting successful searches. Prerequisite: LA 306U. 3 sem. hrs.

398U Selected Topics. 1-6 sem. hrs.

495U Paralegal Studies Senior Seminar (Capstone). Integration of course work completed through individual or group research projects that will result in written and oral presentations. Post-baccalaureate students are required to write a longer “thesis-quality” research paper and give a longer oral presentation on that paper. Prerequisites: Completion of all Paralegal Studies Core Courses and 18 sem. hrs. of Focus Courses. 3 sem. hrs.

Management (MGMT)

341U Principles of Management. Fundamentals of management emphasizing application of scientific methods to solution of business problems; illustrations from various types of organizations, including manufacturing and service industries, government, charitable, and other social institutions. 3 sem. hrs.

345U Business Literacy. Providing an overview of the issues facing those involved in domestic and international commerce. Required for accelerated BLA. Limited space available for non-Weekend College students. 6 sem. hrs.

Marketing (MKT)

321U Principles of Marketing. Institutions involved, functions performed, and problems encountered in getting goods and services from producers to consumers. 3 sem. hrs.

331U Marketing on the Internet. Apply concepts of marketing to the Internet. Integrates lecture, individual and group exercises to develop and enhance students’ analytical, problem solving, creative thinking, writing, communication, and presentation skills as applied to e-marketing principles. 3 sem. hrs.

Mathematics (MATH)

102U-103U Finite Mathematics. Topics in finite mathematics designed to demonstrate the power of mathematical reasoning. 3-3 sem. hrs.

104U Elementary Probability and Statistics. Probability sufficient to provide introduction to statistics, descriptive statistics, binomial and normal distributions, and hypothesis testing. 3 sem. hrs.

Music (MUS)

111U Appreciation of Music. For general student. Introduction to listening; present-day repertory and its historical development. 3 sem. hrs.

310U Managing Performing Arts Organizations. Reviews topics essential for successful management of performing arts organizations. Studies will include organizational structure, budget development and management, strategic planning, trustee development, trustee/staff relations, marketing, audience development, development of outreach programming, box-office management, mailing list and membership management, human resource management, union labor relations and contract negotiation. 3 sem. hrs.

398U Selected Topics. 1-6 sem. hrs.

Physics (PHYS)

PHYS 198U Selected Topics. 1-3 sem. hrs.

PHYS 398U Selected Topics. 1-3 sem. hrs.

Political Science (PLSC)

205U Introduction to American Government. A multimedia, high-tech approach to the study of basic roles, structures, and functions of American political institutions; and introduction to American political process. 3 sem. hrs.

207U Virginia Government and Politics. A multimedia, high-tech approach to the study of Virginia government at state, county, municipal, and special district levels emphasizing legislative, executive, and judicial organization; and state politics and intergovernmental relations. 3 sem. hrs.

209U Introduction to Public Administration. Structural, functional, and human aspects of formal organization emphasizing relationship between public administration and policymaking process. 3 sem. hrs.

303U Metropolitan Problems and Politics. Analysis of and practical involvement with major issues affecting metropolitan governments. 3 sem. hrs.

310U Public Administration: Intergovernmental Relations. Administration of policy approached from intergovernmental perspective emphasizing relationship of cities to state and federal governments. 3 sem. hrs.

Psychology (PSYC)

101U Introductory Psychology. Scientific principles of behavior. Survey emphasizing psychological methods and research involved in understanding human behavior. Research participation or equivalent required. 3 sem. hrs.

190U Child Psychology. Introduction to biological, social, cognitive, and emotional processes of development during prenatal to preadolescent developmental periods. 3 sem. hrs.

198U Selected Topics. 3 sem. hrs.

199U Independent Study. 1-3 sem. hrs.

222U Motivation and Emotion. Explanations of behavior and its likelihood of occurrence as well as physiological, cognitive, and social-interactive responses which have tendency to facilitate or obstruct that behavior. 3 sem. hrs.
230U Psychology of Women. Analysis of gender as function of biological and environmental forces. Emphasis on traditional and modern roles, developmental patterns of women, and psychological problems unique to women. 3 sem. brs.

298U Selected Topics. 3 sem. brs.

300U Principles of Psychological Measurements. Introduction to basics of testing and measurement, including statistics necessary to interpret test data and meaning of various concepts of testing. Determination of reliability and validity with emphasis on appropriate and ethical use of tests. 3 sem. brs.

303U Psychology of Gender. Overview of current theory and empirical research on gender, exploring origins of gender identity and impact of gender on systems, individuals, attitudes, and behavior. 3 sem. brs.

313U Social Psychology. Critical overview of current theory and research in social psychology, with emphasis on conceptual and empirical work on social cognition, social influence, affective processes, attraction, altruism, aggression, and group dynamics. 3 sem. brs.

327U Organizational Psychology. Examination of industrial/organizational theories and psychological principles as applied to the workplace. Will examine job analysis, the screening, selection, training and development of employees, the performance appraisal process, motivation and job satisfaction, stress, leadership, and organizational development. 3 sem. brs.

328U Personnel Psychology. Intensive study of psychological problems of personnel management emphasizing tests, ratings, incentives, emotional factors, and morale. 3 sem. brs.

337U Psychological Development Across the Life Cycle. Developmental changes and psychosocial processes from adolescent through adult life. 3 sem. brs.

398U Selected Topics. 3 sem hours.

39U Independent Study. 1-6 sem. brs.

530U Organizational Psychology. The Organizational Psychology class will allow students to gain a broad understanding of many areas critical to effective human resource management. Further, the graduate level course will allow an in-depth understanding of many social sciences grounded theories and practices as applied to the real world business setting. The course will help students when faced with real world decisions including: determining selection strategies and selecting valid tools, how to drive performance and development with a performance appraisal tool, how to assess needs and train for results, how to develop and select effective leaders, how to design teams and deal with conflict, how to impact morale through satisfaction and motivation strategies, and how to manage and cope with work-related stress. The ultimate intention of the course is to equip students with the knowledge and tools they will need to positively impact their organizations. 3 sem brs.

Public Administration (PBAD)

301U Increasing the Productivity of Government. Growth, development, and characteristics of bureaucracy; its strengths and advantages; its particular weaknesses; and strategies for improving performance of bureaucracy. 3 sem. brs.

338U Decision Making in Public Administration. Assists student to recognize decision-making process in public management/administration and to develop techniques to ensure timely decisions with accountability for action. Emphasis on determining methods of controlling administrative decisions within an organization while fostering atmosphere that allows decision making at appropriate level of organization. 3 sem. brs.
